Hospital
Appointments:

- May 2005 to Present
Virtua Willingboro (Formerly, Lourdes Medical Center, Burlington Division and Deborah Heart And Lung Campuses. Name change July 2017).
Emergency Department Physician.
Emergency Physician Associates – Emergency Physician Associates/Team Health.
Working as an Emergency Medical Physician in a community Medical Hospital. This facility is the regional Psychiatric Evaluation Facility and Rape Crisis Center.
- January 2005 to March 12, 2005
Women’s Medical Hospital. Interim Chairman of the Department of Emergency Medicine and Emergency Department Physician.

Accepted the position of Chairman at Women’s Medical Hospital, formerly the Medical College of Philadelphia, during a period of restructuring after financial difficulties. Served on a number of committees, including Chairman to the Patient Safety Committee. Secondary to bankruptcy and subsequent insolvency, the hospital closed March 12th, 2005. As per the stipulations of the contract, was transferred to Roxborough Memorial hospital as a Emergency Medicine Physician effective April 2005 whilst seeking other employment .

December 1999 through December 2004 are all within the Temple Health System. Restructuring of the health system with hospital closures/Reorganization resulted in the following three entries - All within Temple’s system.

- July 2000 to December 2004
Northeastern Hospital, Philadelphia - Temple University Health System. Associate Director of the Department of Emergency Medicine and Emergency Department Physician.

Accepted transfer by Temple University to the position of Assistant Director of the Department of Emergency Medicine of Northeastern Hospital during a period of system-wide restructuring. As part of this restructuring plan, Emergency Services at Northeastern hospital, and the Emergency Department facility in particular, were expanded. Additionally Temple University is increased its’ maternity and children's health services at this facility, thereby leading to increased patient volume and flow through the ER.
- January 2000 to July 2000
Episcopal Hospital, Philadelphia - Temple University Health System. Interim Chairman of the Department of Emergency Medicine and Emergency Physician to a 23,000 volume Emergency Department.

Had taken on the responsibility with Temple University in rebuilding the Emergency Department in terms of staffing and resources during a period of general restructuring of the Temple Health System. Had provided direction in patient management for the Emergency Department attending and nursing staff, pending transfer to Temple University when in-patient bed utilization had been exceeded. Had initiated the process of revamping charting to improve compliance with HICFA guidelines and reverse the pre-existing 90% down-coding estimated by Healthcare Business Resources. Had personally and actively pursued and instituted the modernization and computerization of bilingual patient discharges from pre-existing handwritten instructions, thereby improving patient understanding and lowering physician liability. Had set up a computerized onsite and online-reference library, including multiple hyper-links to various sites, including MEDLINE, MICROMEDEX, and various "ANNALS," for physician use in the ED to offset the loss of in-house consultants. Had actively taught residents and medical students as a regular attending for "Morning Report" and had been lecturing on various topics. Had personally overseen the reaccreditation of Episcopal as a Base Command Facility. Was Functioning as Episcopal Hospital's Liaison to the City of Philadelphia Republican National Convention-2000 EMS disaster planning committee.

June 1999 to
December 1999

Episcopal Hospital, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania - Temple University Health System. Deputy Director of the Emergency Department and Emergency Physician, in addition to Base Command Physician to a 23,000-volume urban community hospital and rape crisis center for the City of Philadelphia.

Initially hired by Episcopal hospital prior to Temple's Acquisition in the role of Deputy Director for the Department of Emergency Medicine. After Temple bought the hospital, functioned in a capacity above that of the above job title secondary to the consequences of a nursing strike following this merger in July, 1999. These consequences included the resignations of the CEO of the hospital and a significant reduction in hospital resources, with subsequent resignations of attending staff from various departments. As a result, had to making presentations and appeals to the medical staff assembly, in addition to Episcopal and Temple University administrations, to advocate for the needs of the Emergency Department patients and staff in order to keep the Emergency Department fully operational. Also had to coordinate as administrator-on-call for the transferring out of critically ill patients to other facilities having intensive care capabilities. Additionally, had to provide support for ED attending staff in the prolonged management of critically ill patients too sick to transfer, freeing them up to resume management of the rest of the Emergency Department. Throughout this period, had been transitioning into the role of interim director pending the formation of a search committee by Temple Administration.

June 1996 to
June 1999/Per Diem
To July 2012

West Jersey Hospital - Voorhees Division. (Now Virtua)

Emergency Physician Associates/ Team Health

Emergency And Base Command Physician to Virtua/ West Jersey Hospital's Mobile Intensive Care Units and Southstar - Southern New Jersey's Medical Support Helicopter.

Functioned as an emergency physician in a 35,000 plus annual volume ED with daytime double and night-time single physician coverage. This Emergency Department also handled the primary volume of the West Jersey Hospital system's pediatric and obstetric/gynecologic volume. This was a result of the other three campuses not have those resources present at those locations.

Also was an instructor to the Family Practice and Podiatric residents during their rotations through the Emergency Department.

As Medical Command to West Jersey Hospital's MICU system, provided medical command for all advanced life support activities in the southwest New Jersey region. Provided in-field guidance to the paramedics in both medical and trauma management. Subsequently was responsible for notification and coordination with the assorted receiving facilities.

As Medical Command to SouthStar, coordinated and provided medical direction for trauma transports as well as "on-scene" trauma management pending an "on-air patch" through to Cooper Regional Trauma Center. Additionally provided medical command for "IHOPs" of critically ill patients too sick to be managed at a given facility during their in-flight transfer to tertiary care centers in the Southern New Jersey and Philadelphia region.

December 1995
June 1996

Episcopal Hospital, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Emergency Medicine Physician and Base Command Physician to Level II Trauma Center. A 23000 volume single physician coverage facility. Episcopal is also one of Philadelphia's primary rape evaluation Centers.

June 1993 to
June 1996

Emergency Medicine Resident Physician.
Thomas Jefferson University Hospital, Philadelphia, PA.
Trained for board specialization at a Level One trauma center in central Philadelphia. Training over the three years included Intensive Care (two full rotations split between Methodist Hospital in South Philadelphia and Thomas Jefferson University Hospital), Surgery, Trauma Surgery at both Cooper and Thomas Jefferson University Trauma Centers, Oral Surgery, Emergency Medicine, Anesthesia, Dermatology, Pediatric ICU, EMS, Sports Medicine, Heart Station, Gynecology, Pediatrics, Pediatric Emergency Medicine at Saint Christopher's Hospital for Children, Cardiac Critical Care, Obstetrics, and Ophthalmology.
